Introduction

You are actively involved in a political party as a leader, official representative, official agent or party officer. In this capacity, you have duties and obligations arising from the provisions of Title III of the Election Act, specifically those related to the Register of authorized political entities of Québec kept by the Chief Electoral Officer, as well as the provisions of Chapter VI of Title IV of the same Act and pertaining to the control of election expenses.

One of your responsibilities is to make sure that the Chief Electoral Officer is promptly informed of appointments and other information about your party.

This guide was designed to help you fulfil this obligation. It outlines the legal requirements regarding the Register of authorized political entities of Québec and provides forms and documents that you can use to inform the Chief Electoral Officer of any changes to be made in the Register.

We invite you to begin by familiarizing yourself with the contents of this guide and then to refer to it whenever necessary, specifically when appointing personnel or communicating new information to the Chief Electoral Officer.

Élections Québec

Elections Québec is an independent, neutral, impartial and non-partisan institution which reports directly to the National Assembly.

Its mission is to oversee the holding of elections and referendums, to guarantee the full exercise of election rights, to promote the democratic values of Québec society and to ensure compliance with the rules on political financing and the control of election expenses. The Direction du financement des partis politiques is entrusted with this responsibility.

The main responsibilities of the Direction du financement des partis politiques are to:

41 ensure that all independent candidates and deputies, party authorities and political parties have received the necessary authorization to solicit contributions, incur expenses or take out loans;

487 receive contributions made by electors, verify their compliance and remit them to the proper authorized political entity;

87 ensure that contributions were made by electors;

488 keep the public informed about the sources of financing and expenses of authorized political entities through reporting and posting donor lists on the institution’s website;

45.1, 488 train official representatives and their delegates, as well as official agents and their deputies;

65 keep a register of authorized political entities in Québec;

65 among other obligations, political entities authorized by the Chief Electoral Officer must supply the information identified in the Election Act. This information is kept in the RAPEQ.
The abbreviation RAPEQ refers to the register in which information on political entities authorized by the Chief Electoral Officer is kept. This information, which is of a public nature for the purpose of the Act respecting Access to documents held by public bodies and the Protection of personal information, is for the most part available on Élections Québec website.

In regard to authorized political parties and their party authorities, the RAPEQ contains the following information:

For a party:
- name of the party;
- name, address, telephone number and e-mail address* of the party leader;
- name, address, telephone number and e-mail address* of at least two officers of the party other than the leader;
- address to which communications intended for the party are to be sent;
- address where the books and accounts pertaining to the contributions made to the party and the expenses that it incurs are kept;
- name, address, telephone number and e-mail address* of the official representative and his or her delegate(s), if any, as well as of the official agent and his or her deputies, if any;
- address of a maximum of two permanent offices, if applicable;
- name, professional accounting association, firm (if applicable), address*, telephone number and e-mail address* of the party auditor.

For a party authority:
- name of the authority;
- name, address, telephone number and e-mail address* of the authority’s official representative;
- address to which communications intended for the authority are to be sent;
- address where the books and accounts pertaining to the contributions made to the authority and the expenses that it incurs are kept.

* There is no legal requirement for this information to appear in the RAPEQ, but this information is nonetheless required by the Chief Electoral Officer
For each party and party authority, an excerpt from the RAPEQ contains the aforementioned information, as shown below. This document is updated every time your party informs the Chief Electoral Officer of a modification, and a copy is sent to you for your records.

To ensure that the information in the RAPEQ is in compliance with the Act, the EA requires that all authorized parties inform the Chief Electoral Officer in writing without delay whenever information in the RAPEQ must be changed.

A party that fails to fulfil this requirement of the Act may have its authorization withdrawn.

These changes to the RAPEQ must always be communicated to the Chief Electoral Officer by means of a written notice sent by regular mail, by fax or by e-mail after they have been scanned, to the following address:

E-mail: repaq@dgeq.qc.ca
Fax (Québec City region): 418 528-0638
Fax (toll free): 1 866 975-0638

For additional information or assistance regarding RAPEQ-related requirements, please contact the Service du Registre, de la coordination et de la conformité des contributions politiques at 418-644-3570 or, if outside the Québec City area, at 1 866 232-6494 (toll free).
To maintain its authorization, your party must fulfil certain obligations. They include, among others, having a leader, an official representative for the party and each party authority, an official agent, two party officers other than the leader, and an auditor.

Appointments to these positions must be made in accordance with the requirements of the Act. The relevant information, as well as notice of any modification or resignation, must be sent without delay to the Chief Electoral Office by the leader, or another person designated by the leader, so that it may be recorded in the RAPEQ.

In addition, anyone who resigns as official representative, official agent, delegate of the official representative or deputy official agent must notify the Chief Electoral Officer in writing. The party must then fill any such vacancy without delay.

To learn more about the specific requirements for each appointment, please refer to the relevant sections of this guide.

Note that all resignations and appointments to the positions of official representative, delegate of an official representative, and official agent of a party or party authority are published in the Gazette officielle du Québec.

For each party intervenor, the following pages describe his or her role and the instructions on notifying the Chief Electoral Officer when a person is appointed to the position. You will also find documents that you can use to submit the required information to the RAPEQ.
Role and appointment of the LEADER

To hold the position of leader, you must not:

- have been convicted of an offence that is a corrupt electoral practice;
- be an official representative;
- be one of the two other officers of your party listed in the Register.

As leader, your primary responsibilities are to:

- send the Chief Electoral Officer a copy of your party by-laws, duly adopted by the members at a general meeting, within six months following the authorization of your party or any amendment of its by-laws;
- designate a person responsible for appointing official representatives of the party and party authorities (optional);
- designate a person responsible for filing the application(s) for authorization of party authorities (optional);
- fill without delay any vacancies in the positions of official representative, official agent or party officer;
- ensure that the information required for the updating of the Register is provided to the Chief Electoral Officer in writing without delay;
- notify the Chief Electoral Officer if you want your party to be granted authorization as a private intervenor if your party is not presenting any candidates during an election;
- file an application to change the party’s name, if applicable;
- file a request to withdraw authorization of the party or a party authority, if applicable.

Resignation

If you resign your position, you must send written notice to the Chief Electoral Officer stating the date of your resignation so that it may update the Register.
66 Appointment of a new leader

When a new leader is appointed, notice must be sent to the Chief Electoral Officer as soon as possible, accompanied by a copy of the resolution that the party has adopted to that effect. The resolution must be certified by at least two party officers listed in the RAPEQ (other than the leader).

If a leadership campaign is scheduled to elect a new leader, an interim leader must be appointed as soon as possible and within 30 days. To learn how to conduct a political party leadership campaign, please refer to the relevant section of this guide.

Templates

In the following pages you will find a template for notifying the Chief Electoral Officer of the appointment of a new leader, a template for a resolution concerning the appointment of a new leader, and a template for providing notice of resignation from this position. Role and appointment of the OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE and his/her DELEGATE(S)

The official representative of a party serves as the official agent of the party, unless the leader assigns this responsibility to another person.

To hold the position of official representative, you must:

- be a qualified elector;
- not be a candidate or the leader of a party;
- not be an election officer or the employee of an election officer;
- not have been convicted of an offence that is a corrupt electoral practice;
- not be the auditor of your party.

As official representative, your primary responsibilities are to:

- complete the mandatory training within a period of 30 days following the date of your appointment;
- manage and keep the account records for the funds received;
- open an account at a Québec branch of a financial institution;
- solicit contributions;
- collect and cash contributions of less than $100 in cash as well as any other income;
- appoint canvassers and keep an up-to-date list of canvassers;
- ensure that cash contributions of less than $100 comply with the Act;
- ensure that a contribution slip is properly completed for every contribution that you receive and that it is remitted to the Chief Electoral Officer;
- cash all sums received at political activities;
- remit to the Chief Electoral Officer the portion of sums received at political activities that exceeds 3% of the total contributions received during the period covered by a financial report;
- contract loans;
- transfer the necessary sums to the official agent’s election fund;
• cash election expense reimbursements, including advances;
• receive sums following the closing of the official agent’s election fund as well as goods held by the latter;
• return non-compliant contributions to the Chief Electoral Officer as soon as the fact is known;
• produce requests for payment of the allowance to the authorized political party (applies to parties only);
• request reimbursements of audit fees for the annual financial report (applies to parties only).

Authorize and pay expenses:
• authorizes expenses other than election expenses;
• pay invoices within six months of their receipt;
• pay the interest due on loans at least once a year;
• pay the audit fees for the party’s annual financial report (applies to parties only).

Produce the financial report:
• keep adequate financial books and accounts to facilitate preparation of the financial report;
• sign the balance sheet of the financial report;
• respect the established deadlines, that is, April 1 for an authority and the April 30 for a party;
• with the leader’s approval, appoint in writing an auditor from among those who have the legal right to practise public auditing in Québec;
• ensure that the financial report is accompanied by the auditor’s report and the appendices that are an integral part thereof (applies only to a party);
• upon request from the Chief Electoral Officer, provide within 30 days any required information related to the financial report;
• keep for a period of seven years all vouchers enabling the Chief Electoral Officer to verify compliance with the provisions concerning received contributions.

Because the official representative has a number of important responsibilities, the Chief Electoral Officer has created an extranet that provides access to several tools to help you perform your duties. Support is also available from a team of coordinators specialized in political financing.
Guide for official representatives of a party or a party authority

This guide was specifically created for you. We encourage you to refer to it when carrying out your tasks.

Mandatory training

45.1 As an official representative, you have 30 days from the date of your appointment to take the training on the rules governing political financing and election expenses. This training is mandatory under the EA and is dispensed online. Information indicating whether or not you have completed the training will be entered in the Register and posted on Élections Québec website.

Political financing coordinators

A team of coordinators specialized in political financing is available to guide you in your role. You can call the team at 418-644-3570 or, if you are outside the Québec City area, 1-866-232-6494 (toll free). You can also contact the team by e-mail at financement-provincial@dgeq.qc.ca.

Resignation

If you resign your position, you must notify the Chief Electoral Officer in writing without delay so that it may update the Register. You will also have to remit the financial and reference documents which you had used in performing your duties to your successor.

Furthermore, within 30 days following your resignation, you must send the party a financial report covering any period during which you held your position and which is not covered by a previous report*, along with the receipts issued during this period.

* The expression “a previous report” refers not only to a financial report that has already been remitted, but also to a financial report that is due to be remitted. The official representative is still obliged to remit this final report, if applicable.

REMINDER

Soliciting contributions, managing non-election expenses and producing the party’s financial reports are the responsibility of the official representative. For this reason, it is critical to notify the Chief Electoral Officer without delay if you resign.
CHAPTER 1  Your role within the party

Appointment of a new official representative

The appointment of a new official representative must be made in writing and signed by the leader or a person designated by the leader for that purpose. The notice of appointment must be sent to the Chief Electoral Officer without delay.

Delegate of the official representative

If you wish, you can be assisted in your duties by one or more delegates. A delegate assumes the responsibilities conferred by the Act in the electoral district in which he or she is appointed. Like the official representative, he or she must fulfill the conditions set out in section 45 of the EA. Please note that the delegate of the party’s official representative does not replace the official representative of an authority.

Resignation

If a delegate resigns, the Chief Electoral Officer must be notified without delay in writing so that it may record the change in the Register.

There is no legal obligation to fill the position of a delegate who has resigned. If, however, another delegate is appointed, he or she must in turn be designated in writing by the party leader or another person that the leader has designated for that purpose.

Templates

In the following pages you will find a template for notifying the Chief Electoral Officer of the appointment of an official representative, a template for notifying the Chief Electoral Officer of the appointment of a delegate of the official representative, and a template for notifying the Chief Electoral Officer of a resignation from either of these positions. We invite you to refer to them and to adapt them according to your party’s needs.

Role and Appointment of the OFFICIAL AGENT and his/her DEPUTIES

The official representative of a party acts as the official agent of that party unless the leader appoints another person to serve in that capacity.

To hold the position of official agent, you must:

- be a qualified elector;
- not be a candidate or the leader of a party;
- not be an election officer or the employee of an election officer;
- not have been convicted of an offence that is a corrupt electoral practice;
- not be the auditor of your party;
- confirm in writing that you accept the appointment.

As official agent, you are responsible for all election expenses and for filing the return of election expenses. To that end, you must:

- complete the mandatory training within 10 days of the date of your appointment.

Manage the election fund:

- open an account at a financial institution and deposit the sums received from the official representative;
- remit to the official representative of the party or party authority the sums and goods remaining in your election fund after paying all election expenses.

Incur or authorize election expenses:

- authorize all election expenses;
- ensure that the maximum permitted amount of election expenses is respected;
- identify all advertising in accordance with the Act;
- authorize an advertising agency, if applicable.
413 Pay election expenses:
- pay the regular price;
- ensure that all invoices meet the requirements;
- ensure that the provisions of the Act regarding expenses made and unclaimed as well as contested claims are respected;
- pay all uncontested expenses before filing the return of election expenses;
- administer the petty cash fund;
- reimburse, if applicable, personal expenses paid by a candidate.

434 File the return of election expenses:
- respect the established deadlines;
- ensure that all appendices are properly filled out;
- ensure that the detailed statement of expenses incurred or authorized by the deputy was sent to you, if applicable;
- attach the deed of appointment of the advertising agency, if applicable;
- attach the detailed statement of expenses from the advertising agency, if applicable;
- attach all supporting documents;
- fill in the “Declaration of the official agent” section.

Because the official agent has a number of important responsibilities, the Chief Electoral Officer has created an extranet that provides access to several tools to help you perform your duties. Support is also available from a team of coordinators specialized in political financing.

Guide of the official agent of a party and a party candidate

This guide was created specifically for you. We encourage you to read through it carefully and to refer to it when carrying out your duties.

Mandatory training

As an official agent, you have 10 days from the date of your appointment to take the training on the rules governing election expenses.

This training is mandatory under the EA and is dispensed online. Information indicating whether or not you have completed the training will be entered in the Register and posted on Élections Québec website.
CHAPTER 1  Your role within the party

Political financing coordinators
A team of coordinators specialized in political financing is available to guide you in your role. You can call the team at 418-644-3570 or, if you are outside the Québec City area, 1-866-232-6494 (toll free). You can also contact the team by e-mail at financement-provincial@dgeq.qc.ca.

Resignation
If you resign your position, you must notify the Chief Electoral Officer in writing without delay so that it may update the Register. You will also have to remit the financial and reference documents which you had used in performing your duties to your successor.

REMINDER
During the election period, election expenses are the responsibility of the official agent. For this reason, it is critical to notify the Chief Electoral Officer without delay if you resign.

Appointment of a new official agent
A new official agent must be appointed without delay by means of a written document signed by the leader. The document must mention the designated person’s consent and be countersigned by him or her. Since the official agent is active during the election period, it is critical that his or her appointment be made and sent to the Chief Electoral Officer without delay.

When the position of official agent becomes vacant, the official representative serves in that capacity until another person is appointed by the leader.

Deputy official agent
If you wish, you can, with your party leader’s approval, appoint one or more deputies to incur or authorize election expenses. You can appoint the individual(s) in question by means of a written deed of appointment that states the maximum authorized amount of election expenses as well as the consent of each individual to hold this position.

Like the official agent, the deputy must fulfil the conditions set out in section 412 of the Election Act.
Resignation

If a deputy resigns his or her position, the Chief Electoral Officer must be notified in writing without delay so that it may update the Register.

There is no legal obligation to fill the position of a deputy who has resigned. If, however, you wish to appoint another deputy, you must once again secure your party leader’s approval and designate the new deputy in a written deed of appointment that states the maximum authorized amount for election expenses as well as the individual’s consent to hold this position.

Role and appointment of the AUDITOR

The auditor of an authorized political party is the person appointed by the official representative with the party leader’s approval and whose name is recorded as such in the RAPEQ. This person must be legally entitled to practise public auditing in Québec, being a member of the Ordre des comptables professionnels agréés du Québec and holding a public accountancy permit as an auditor.

• be a candidate in an on-going election;
• be an associate or employee of the National Assembly, the Parliament of Canada or the Chief Electoral Officer, a returning officer, a deputy returning officer or an assistant to one of the latter.

As auditor, your primary responsibilities are to:

• have access to all the books, accounts and records pertaining to the party’s financial affairs;
• audit the financial report pursuant to section 113 of the EA and submit your auditor’s report prepared in accordance with the relevant Chief Electoral Officer guideline.

Resignation

CHAPTER 2  Changes to your party

Updates to party by-laws

65.1 You have sent or will send a copy of the by-laws duly adopted by the members at a general meeting within six months following your party’s authorization.

Although the Chief Electoral Officer does not intervene in the internal politics of authorized political parties, the EA requires that it keep a copy of every party’s by-laws in its files.

Moreover, when party by-laws are amended, you are required to send a copy to the Chief Electoral Officer so that it may update its records.

On the following page is a list of subjects that could be covered by party by-laws, along with a brief description of suggested contents. Please note that the suggested subjects are examples only. We invite you to refer to them and to adapt them according to your party’s needs.

CHAPTER 2 Changes to your party

Authorization of a party authority

52 A party authority is a party association at the electoral division, regional or provincial level.

To obtain authorization of one or more party authorities, your party must submit to the Chief Electoral Officer a written request signed by the party leader or a person that the leader has designated in writing for that purpose, providing the following information:

• name of the authority;
• address to which communications intended for the authority are to be sent;
• address where the books and accounts pertaining to the contributions to be paid to the authority and to the expenses that it will incur are kept;
• name, address and telephone number of the authority’s official representative.

As an authorized political entity, each authority must fulfil the requirements of the EA, including the obligation to submit the required financial reports and the information that must be entered in the RAPEQ.

Template

On the next page you will find the authorization form to be used to file an application for authorization of an authority to the Chief Electoral Officer.

CHAPTER 2  Changes to your party

Changes of address

The domiciliary addresses of every party intervenor, the address of the auditor, the address for party communications, the address where the party’s books and accounts are kept, and the addresses of a maximum of two permanent offices, if applicable, must be recorded in the RAPEQ. When a change is made to any of these addresses, the Chief Electoral Officer must be notified in writing so that it may record the new information in the RAPEQ.

Each of these addresses corresponds to a specific need:

- Address for party communications
  This address is mandatory. It may be the address of the party’s permanent office or the domiciliary address of a party officer. This address is posted on the Chief Electoral Officer website as the party’s address.

- Address for books and accounts
  This address is mandatory. It must be a physical address that indicates the place where the party’s books and accounts are kept. Accordingly, a P.O. box cannot be the sole address for the party’s books and accounts.

- Address of the permanent office
  The party is not required to have a permanent office. However, if the party does have a permanent office, it must be a place for which the party pays certain occupancy or usage charges. However, for the purposes of subparagraph (10) of section 404 of the EA, the Chief Electoral Officer must be informed of this address at least three months before the publication of the notice of election in order for the ordinary costs incurred for the day-to-day operations of this permanent office not to be considered election expenses.

- Domiciliary addresses of party intervenors
  The addresses of the leader, official representative, official agent, two party officers and, if applicable, the delegate of the official representative and deputy official agent must be recorded in the Register.

- Address of the auditor
  Correspondence that the Chief Electoral Officer sends to the auditor is sent directly to the auditor’s address. For that reason, the auditor’s address, while not being mandatory under the EA, must nevertheless be recorded in the Register.

Any change of address must be reported in writing without delay to the Chief Electoral Officer.
Change of name

An authorized party may, with the approval of the Chief Electoral Officer, change its name. The new party name cannot include the word “independent” or be likely to mislead electors as to the party to which they are contributing.

To assist you in selecting a new name, we suggest that you visit the Elections Québec website, where you can view a list of party names that are already reserved, names of authorized political parties and names of parties that have applied for authorization.

This application must be made in writing by the party leader and be accompanied by a copy of the resolution passed in accordance with party by-laws and certified by at least two party officers listed in the RAPEQ. No such application can be made during an election period.

Templates

In the following page you will find a correspondence template and a template for a resolution to assist you in applying to the Chief Electoral Officer for a change of party name. We invite you to refer to them and to adapt them according to your party’s needs.

- fate of each party authority of the applying parties (withdrawal of authorization, change of name, change of official representative, etc.).

The application for merger must be accompanied by a copy of the resolution adopted in accordance with the by-laws of each party involved and certified by at least two party officers of each party, who must be listed in the RAPEQ.

56 From the date on which the merger is authorized, the applying parties and their authorities cease to exist and are replaced by the party and the authorities resulting from the merger, which then succeed to their rights and obligations.
CHAPTER 2  Changes to your party

Rermitting documents

Within 60 days of the date of the merger, each party and each of their party authorities must remit to the Chief Electoral Officer a financial report for the period from the preceding December 31 to the date of merger.

In addition, the official representatives of the party and party authorities resulting from the merger must, no later than April 1st of the calendar year following that of the merger, file the financial reports required under sections 113 and 117 of the EA for the portion of the fiscal year that has elapsed since the merger.

The party's financial report must be accompanied with an opening balance sheet at the date of the merger, and the party authorities' financial reports must indicate the cash balance on the date of the merger.

In the following pages, you will find a correspondence template and a template of the resolution to assist you in applying for a party merger with the Chief Electoral Officer. Any vacancy in the position of financial representative of a candidate must be filled as soon as possible.

A candidate whose financial representative, designated at the time of the filing of candidacy, dies, resigns or is unable to perform his or her duties must appoint another representative immediately and notify the Chief Electoral Officer in writing. A candidate may also dismiss his or her financial representative and appoint another.

CHAPTER 2  Changes to your party

Authorization as a private intervenor

If your political party does not present candidates in a general election or by-election, it may act as a private intervenor. The party leader is then designated to represent the group.

To act as a private intervenor, your party must notify the Chief Electoral Officer, which will assign you an authorization number.

As a private intervenor, your party may incur publicity expenses up to a maximum amount of $300. The publicity must be related to a subject of public interest (for example: the environment, the protection of a park, etc.) and cannot in any way directly promote or oppose a candidate or a party.

To learn more about the rights and obligations of a private intervenor, please consult the Guide for the private intervenor.

Expense report

The representative of a private intervenor must, within 30 days after polling day, remit to the Chief Electoral Officer a report of all his or her expenses, accompanied with the invoices, receipts, other vouchers or certified true copies of such documents, along with a list thereof and a declaration in the prescribed form.

The Direction du financement des partis politiques has a team of coordinators specialized in political financing available to answer your questions. You can contact the team by dialing 418-644-3570 or, if you are outside the Québec City area, 1-866-232-6494, toll free.

Withdrawal of authorization

The Chief Electoral Officer may, upon a written application from the leader, withdraw the authorization of a party or one of its authorities. This application for withdrawal of authorization must be accompanied with a copy of the resolution to that effect passed in accordance with party by-laws and certified by at least two party officers entered in the Register.

The application for withdrawal must, moreover, be accompanied with a closing financial report and a financial report for the preceding fiscal year if such a report has not yet been submitted.
During the review of your application, you will be asked to provide certain additional documents, including:

- a list of canvassers, duly completed and signed;
- a list of any creditors including their names, addresses and the amounts due to each;
- all contribution slip booklets;
- deposit slips;
- bank statements;
- original invoices, if any, and proof of payment;
- the list of assets, if any;
- proof of closure of bank accounts;
- a cheque made out to the Directeur général des élections du Québec, in trust, if the party still holds funds.

Other documents may also be requested. In addition, the party’s official representative must, for seven years following the date on which the financial report is filed, conserve all vouchers related to the financial activities of your party. The official representative must also provide them to the Chief Electoral Officer upon request.

It is the responsibility of the party leader or official representative to ensure that these documents are produced and remitted to the Chief Electoral Officer. Failure to file these reports is an offence, and anyone convicted thereof is liable to a fine of $50 for each day of delay.

In the event the leader or official representative has resigned his or her position, the obligation to fulfil this legal requirement remains in effect and failure to do so is also liable to a fine.

To assist you in filing these documents and carrying out other steps resulting from the party’s or authority’s withdrawal of authorization, you can contact a public financing coordinator at 418-646-8754 or, if you are outside the Québec City area, 1-866-225-4087, toll free.

Templates

In the following pages you will find correspondence and resolution templates for applying for a withdrawal of authorization. We invite you to refer to them and adapt them according to your party’s needs.

List of members

51.1 Every authorized party must at all times have at least 100 members, the minimum number allowed.

51.2 No later than April 30 of each year, authorized political parties must send to the Chief Electoral Officer a list indicating the names and addresses of 100 party members who are qualified electors and hold a valid membership card.

Failure to provide this list by the deadline may lead to the withdrawal of your party’s authorization.

68 The following information is requested for each member listed:

• given name and surname;
• full domiciliary address;
• telephone number*;
• e-mail address*;
• membership card number;
• membership card expiry date;
• leader’s attestation.

* We strongly recommend that you provide us with this information in order to simplify our communications with members during the verification process.

51.2 The Chief Electoral Officer may take any necessary measures to verify the accuracy of the information provided on the list. Consequently, please check the information carefully, in particular the addresses. In addition, please ensure that the members on the list have been informed that they may be contacted by the Chief Electoral Officer to confirm their party membership.
68 Should our verification show that your party does not have the minimum number of members required by the Act, the Chief Electoral Officer will have no choice but to withdraw the party’s authorization.

126 Please note that an authorized political party’s list of members is not public information. Consequently, the information it contains may not be disclosed.
